3,5 inch Network (LAN) hard disk box

Share and centralize videos, music, photos and other data in your network or trough the Internet with this network hard disk. Thanks to the included FTP functionality you can access, download and upload data from/to this CHD3NET. Besides a sharing device, it is a perfect backup solution from and for any computer in the network. The hard disk also provides a USB port for easy connection to any other computer. This makes you more flexible for e.g. taking your company data with you and access it at your computer at home and vice versa. Additionally you can create private, password- protected folders on it.
